Tribal Member Darian Hill Signs with Northern Oklahoma College

The Ponca City News

Tonkawa- Northern Oklahoma College women's basketball coach Greg Krause announced the signing of three more players for the 2014-2015 seasons.

The three include Darian Hill of Harrah, Lexi Cowan of Bridge Creek and Jaslynn Boyce of Oklahoma City.

Darian Hill

Hill is a 5-foot-7 guard who averaged 15 points per game at Harrah. She also averaged 4.4 rebounds and 2.6 steals per contest.

She was named to the Oklahoma Girls Basketball Coaches Association Middle West All-State team and the Oklahoma Coaches Association All-State team. She was named second team Little All City by the Oklahoman and she was the North Canadian River Conference most valuable player her senior year.

"Darian is a fast, up-tempo player", Krause said. "She can play any guard position. She is an excellent defender and she hit 53 three-point baskets her senior year. Darian is a great fit for our style of play."

Sac and Fox Nation Police Department Safety Tips from Tribal Police Chief, Bob Roberts

We're coming into vacation season. Anytime you are away from home it is more vulnerable to a break-in or damage. However, there is no reason you should have to worry about the security of your home and your belongings while away. There are many things you can do to minimize the risks of break-ins or other problems. These tips will help you plan ahead and give you peace of mind while away.

Get a house sitter

Find or hire someone you trust to care for your home by checking on it a few times a day. Have them turn the lights on at night. If you have pets, you may want to have them care for your animals too. Make sure you choose someone reliable who you can trust while you are away.

Inform your local Police Department

Always notify your local police department if you are going to be away for an extended period of time. The police department officers will drive by and check on your house and observe to see if anything looks out of order or unusual. If you have a security system leave your house key and security code with someone you trust, and provide the security company with your travel plans and your emergency contact information.

Don't tip off burglars on Facebook or Voicemail

Be careful about sharing personal information on social media such as Facebook and Twitter. Think again, before you post details about your travel plans. Many people today post personal information without realizing that there may be many strangers receiving their posts. Also be careful what you say on your voicemail and automated email response messages. Callers do not need to know that you are not home or traveling, they just need to know you can't come to the phone right now.

Make it look like someone is home

Leaving lights on all day or night may not be the best idea. Instead purchase a light switch timer that can turn lights on automatically based on the schedule you set.

Stop paper and mail deliveries

Several newspapers and a stack of mail signal burglars that your home may be unoccupied. Place a stop order on your mail and newspapers or have a neighbor or house sitter pick them up while you are away. It only takes a minute to place a hold on your mail at the US Postal Service website.

Remove hidden keys

If a burglar notices your home is unoccupied, they often look for spare keys under a mat or flowerpot, on top of a doorframe or in a fake rock. Even if you have a house sitter, remove any spare keys you have hidden before departing.

Unplug electronics

To protect electronics from power surges or prevent a possible fire, unplug computers, televisions, appliances and mobile phone charges. This will save unnecessary electricity costs too.

Inclusion, have a happy and safe vacation without worry, go and enjoy yourselves.
