A Variety of News Stories Making Headlines Here in 2021

(Editor's Note: The health and safety challenges of the past year resulted in many special and traditional activities of the Sac and Fox Nation being canceled or postponed, as in the previous year. However, numerous achievements were made and tribal services administered over the course of the year. In its first year, the Task Force, also known as Operation Lady Justice (OLJ), held more than 15 in-person and remote meetings with tribes, individuals and stakeholder groups, and established and convened 10 working groups to address specific mandates of the executive order, including developing protocols, solving cold cases and expanding outreach and awareness.

Dept. of Justice Presents Awards to Support Domestic Violence Jurisdictions

The U.S. Department of Justice Office on Violence Against Women (OVW) on Dec. 8, 2021 announced awards to 11 Indian Tribal governments to support them in exercising special domestic violence criminal jurisdiction (SDVCJ). The Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (VAWA 2013) recognized the authority of tribes to exercise SDVCJ over certain defendants, regardless of their Indian or non-Indian status, who commit crimes of domestic violence or dating violence or violate certain protection orders in Indian country.

"We heard from tribal leaders that they need access to funds to support the day-to-day costs of SDVCJ, and I'm pleased to announce OVW is issuing eleven awards to implementing tribes to defray these costs," said OVW Principal Deputy Director Allison Randall. "OVW is dedicated to working with tribes to address challenges in protecting victims and responding to offenders in their communities, as well as supporting tribal sovereignty.

The recipients of the one-year awards under OVW's Tribal Jurisdiction Program are: Chickasaw Nation, Oklahoma; Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, North Carolina; Fort Peck Assiniboine and Sioux Tribes, Montana; Muscogee (Creek) Nation, Oklahoma; Nottawaseppi Huron Band of the Potawatomi, Michigan; Pascua Yaqui Tribe, Arizona; Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe, Washington; Pueblo of Santa Clara,

New Mexico; Seminole Nation of Oklahoma; the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma; and the Tulalip Tribes of Washington.

OVW's Tribal Jurisdiction Program was authorized under VAWA 2013 and supports tribes with jurisdiction over Indian country in exercising SDVCJ. Tribal Jurisdiction Program funds may be used to strengthen tribal criminal justice systems, provide indigent criminal defense, conduct jury trials and provide services and applicable rights to crime victims.

Costs could include, but are not necessarily limited to, incarceration costs (including medical care) for non-Indian SDVCJ defendants, trial costs for SDVCJ cases, defense counsel costs, costs associated with empaneling a jury for an SDVCJ trial, batterer's intervention or other pre- or post-conviction supervision or programming costs and related training and technical assistance.

The Office on Violence Against Women provides leadership in developing the nation's capacity to reduce violence through the implementation of the Violence Against Women Act and subsequent legislation. Created in 1995, OVW administers financial and technical assistance to communities across the country that are developing programs, policies and practices aimed at ending domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

1970s. The funding comes from the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation, whose namesake financed the collection of original recordings.

Sac and Fox Nation tribal member Lina Ortega, associate curator for the Western History Collections and subject librarian for the Native American Studies department in the College of Arts and Sciences, will serve as the project lead, ensuring a supportive relationship between those entities, as well as OU's Native Nations Center and OU Libraries. Ortega noted that OU intends to involve the state's Native communities in the decision-making processes during the project.

Director of the Sac and Fox Nation Education Department Edwina Butler-Wolfe announced a project with Jose Olivero, Public Affairs Specialist from the Social Security Administration Office.

"Mr. Olivero contacted the Sac and Fox Nation Education Department in February, to see if we could utilize some of their excess laptops. We accepted 50 laptops on March 30, 2021. This opportunity will provide the technologies needed for various telecommunications while we continue to combat COVID-19.

"My plan is to use the laptops for virtual tutoring for our Sac and Fox Students, we would like to start sessions this summer if possible. This will allow our students to have additional resources for assistance and provide a safe environment virtually where our tribal students can receive a more one-on-one approach with their studies," Director Butler-Wolfe stated.

The Sac and Fox Nation Business Committee hosted a visit from the president of the Chicago Blackhawks ice hockey team, and the vice president and executive director of the Chicago Blackhawks Foundation. The Blackhawks longtime team name and logo are based on the late Sac and Fox Warrior Chief Black Hawk.

The purpose of the visit was to initiate a relationship between the professional sports team and the Sac and Fox Nation. The meeting was arranged and facilitated by Sac and Fox Nation Historian Jaquin Hamilton and Sac and Fox Nation Business Committee Member Robert Williamson.

The special visitors meeting with tribal officials in the Sac and Fox Nation Cultural Center were Danny Wirtz, who serves as president of the Chicago Blackhawks, and Sara Guderyahn, who serves as vice president and community executive director of the Chicago Blackhawks Foundation.

The Sac and Fox Nation announced the cancellation of the 2021 Powwow due to the continuing COVID-19 Public Health Emergency

"The Sac and Fox Nation, with a heavy heart, has made the decision to cancel what would have been the 57th Annual Sac and Fox Nation Powwow. The Sac and Fox Nation Business Committee concurs with the Powwow Committee's recommendation to cancel the annual event, which had been scheduled for July 8-11, 2021, in a continued effort to keep Sac and Fox tribal members, their families and our guests safe during this difficult time," said a spokesperson.

Carla Wallace took the oath of office as the new treasurer of the Sac and Fox Nation during an installation ceremony and reception held June 18 in the Sac and Fox Community Building. Sac and Fox Nation Education Department News

by Edwina Butler-Wolfe

Greetings,

We hope everyone had an enjoyable and safe holiday as we closed out 2021 and beginning 2022. The Education Department dedicated a large portion of our attention to several events that unfolded towards the end of the year and have been very busy working on collaborating with multiple sources to achieve successful opportunities for our tribal youth. We love to share the progress and success stories that unfolded. Our biggest event was Friday, December 10, 2021. Please enjoy what we have to share and thank you for all of your support!

On November 22, 2021, Chief Justin Wood received an email from Coca-Cola's executive director, in regard to some potential computers (laptops) to be donated for our junior and senior high school students. Chief Wood reached out and forward the email to the Education Department. Promptly, we inquired on November 22, 2021, with a follow up to the Dallas region Coca-Cola headquarters of the donated computers (laptops).

A date was agreed upon for December 10, on December 6, 2021. Which time was of essence to get items organized and in place. We like to report that the event on December 10, 2021, was an extremely successful accomplishment ending 2021! We had roughly 50 students from: Shawnee Public School, Prague, Meeker, Stroud, Agra, Tecumseh, North Rock Creek, Quapaw Public School, Oklahoma Union School and Norman Public School.

The event started at 2 p.m. with an opening welcome and introduction provided by Edwina Butler-Wolfe, Director of Education and Hector Amaya, Director, Sales and Operations from the Oklahoma City Area, who spoke to the students about career options in the Coca-Cola Company and expressed how grateful he was to see the students. One other representative from Coca-Cola Company was present, Ish Arebalos, Director of Public Affairs, Communications & Sustainability. Secretary Lana Butler also made an appearance and provided a closing statement for the event. Following the closing statements, computers (laptops) were presented to each student.

We would like to thank Vicki Wilson, Sena Yesslith, Verina Canada for helping out at the front tables with the wireless headsets for our Sac and Fox Students to pick up along with their computer, and the IT Department assisting with setting up with the event quickly, Boyd Cummings and Nathan Pool. Thanks to the maintenance department Brian Onzawah, John Anderson, Cara Mack, Nikki Watashe for all their help. We greatly appreciate each and every one of you!

If your child/children are currently in the 9th through 12th grade they can still pick up a computer (laptop) located at the Education Department/Learning Center in Stroud. We will not be mailing any computers out; students must have their tribal ID card with them before a laptop can be issued.

We are also handing out wireless headsets to our Sac and Fox students Pre-K through 12th grade. You will have to fill out an application and sign a waiver as well have the school sign the application, also YOU MUST HAVE A COPY OF CHILD SAC AND FOX TRIBAL MEMBERSHIP CARD before submitting the application to the Education Department.

The Education Department also has facilitated an order of school backpacks which we will let you know at a later date when we receive the items for distribution. If your child/children have not received a Chromebook, you still have an opportunity to send in an application for a device. The applications are located on the website.

Truman Carter, founder and owner of Indian Country Law Center in Shawnee, Okla. submitted for publication “A Strategic Plan for Tribal Government Leaders,” which provided the history of the federal-tribal relationships and policies, and recommendations.

The article, in part states: “The year 2021 has become a critical time in the history of Indian Tribes in Oklahoma in particular and around the country in general. Tribal leaders are facing attacks and challenges to tribal sovereignty, tribal self-government, and to preserving the tribal ways of life.

“Because of the numerous successes of Tribes in providing and expanding public services and business ventures, state officials are asking Congress to enact laws that erode those precious rights, privileges and immunities that past tribal leaders have fought so hard to prevent tribal erosion in favor of the state control over tribal and Indian activities on Indian lands.

“The duty and obligation of every Indian tribal leader is to take every action necessary to leave the tribes in better shape than they found them.”

Lambert Construction Company, of Stillwater, Okla., received a ‘Build Oklahoma’ award from the Associated General Contractors of Oklahoma (AGCOK) for its successful completion of the Sac and Fox Nation Transportation Facility, which also houses the tribe’s elders and veterans organizations.

This is a single story building in Stroud, Okla. consisting of 9,231 square feet of finished interior and another 2,700 square feet of external courtyard space.
