OSU Students Hear About Tribal History, Culture and Customs

by Mike Brown

As special guests of tribal elder and former tribal official Mary McCormick, a group of students from Oklahoma State University and their course professor paid a visit to the Sac and Fox Nation capitol on April 24. The visit followed Mrs. McCormick's April 3 presentation to the class on the Stillwater campus titled, 'How Are We Sustaining Our Indian Culture?'

The course, led by Dr. Rachel Jackson, is offered as both an American Studies course titled, 'Introduction of Digital Humanities,' and an English Special Topics course title, 'Stories, Resistance, and Native American Communities.'

Dr. Jackson is a member of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma. She holds a PhD. in Composition, Rhetoric and Literacy, and is an OSU College of Arts and Science Diversity Post-Doctoral Fellow. She heads the Rhetoric and Writing Studies Program in the OSU Dept. of English.

Dr. Jackson is also a Ford Foundation Fellow and Newberry Fellow, Newberry Consortium in American Indian Studies. In 2017 she received the James Berlin Memorial Outstanding Dissertation Award, and the Richard Ohmann Award for Outstanding Article.

"The students have spent the semester learning about local tribal histories, as well as, studying and practicing culturally appropriate research methods developed by Native American scholars for working with Indigenous peoples and communities," said Dr. Jackson.

"As part of their course re-ments, the students interviewed three tribal elders, including Mary McCormick. The interviews were video recorded and then transcribed to help students identify important themes emerging from them. The interview recordings and transcriptions will be given to the tribal elders for their own use and, to share with their families and communities," she added.

Dr. Jackson's goal is to help students understand the critical importance of sustaining tribal knowledges in Oklahoma. She designed the course so students could see how stories and storytelling work in Native American communities and, in particular, the central role they play in sustaining tribal cultures.

"The students enjoyed spending time with Mrs. McCormick at the Sac and Fox tribal headquarters after learning so much from her about Sac and Fox history and culture, including the contributions Mrs. McCormick

Officer Nathan B. Graves Honored at Law Enforcement Officers' Memorial Service

U. S. Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs Tara Sweeney on May 2 honored all Indian Country law enforcement officers in her address at the 28th Annual Indian Country Law Enforcement Officer's Memorial service. The event was held on the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center campus in Artesia, NM.

The Indian Country Law Enforcement Officer's Memorial Service honors tribal, state, local and federal law enforcement officers who have given their lives in the line of duty while serving on federal Indian lands and in tribal communities. It is also the occasion when the names of officers to be added to the Indian Country Law Enforcement Officer's Memorial monument at the academy are formally announced.

The names of three officers were added at this year's ceremony bringing the total number listed on the memorial to 119:

- Sac & Fox Nation Police Department Officer Nathan B. Graves who, on January 24, 2017 was killed when his patrol car was struck head-on by an oncoming vehicle that was attempting to pass another car.

- Omaha Nation Law Enforcement Services Police Sergeant Uga'shon Curtis W. Blackbird who, on March 26, 2017 was killed in a vehicle crash that occurred when he was responding to a call and, while driving along a closed section of Nebraska Highway 94 in a period of dense fog, his patrol car struck a construction crane.

- Salt River Police Department Officer Clayton Joel Townsend who, on January 8, 2019, was struck and killed while approaching a vehicle on a traffic stop. The subject driver who struck him admitted to texting and driving at the time of the crash.

"Public safety is a dutiful calling. Officers and their families become a part of the fabric of a community, and when an officer's life is lost, it is felt by so many," Sweeney said. "Although no amount of words

Chief Rhoads Featured in 'Oklahoma Magazine' as 'A Leader of The People'

by Mike Brown

Sac and Fox Nation Principal Chief Kay Rhoads is among eight women featured in the April 25, 2019 edition of 'Oklahoma Magazine'. The feature article, by Tara Malone, is titled, 'Women and Power.'

'Oklahoma Magazine' is the state's largest circulated monthly publication with the highest readership. A digital version is also available. In the feature article, Malone states, "Women are shaping Oklahoma's future. We highlight a handful of the thousands of female leaders vying for change and fighting to make the state – and the world – a better place to live and work. From a philanthropic doctor and a nationally recognized banker to a tribal chief and a civil-rights lawyer, these women are the state's brave pioneers."

The article features Chief Rhoads as "A Leader of The People," and states, "Kay Rhoads has a laser focus on the 3,000-member tribe's business assets in casinos and smoke shops, its access to health care and education. She builds upon the tribe's strengths, emphasizes job creation and continues diversification of the tribe's economic base." The article also notes that Chief Rhoads in 2018 was inducted into the Oklahoma Commission on the Status of Women 'Oklahoma Women's Hall of Fame.'

Other women featured in the magazine article include: Susan Chambers, who is co-founder of Lakeside Women's Hospital in Oklahoma City; Veronica Laizure, who serves as civil rights director of the Oklahoma Chapter of the Council on America - Islamic Relations; and, Jill Castilla, president and chief executive officer of Citizens Bank of Edmond and, chair of Citizens Bancshares.

Asst. Secretary of Indian Affairs Sweeney Appoints LaCounte to BIA Director's Post

U.S. Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs Tara Mac Lean Sweeney on April 29 announced that she has appointed Darryl LaCounte to the position of director of the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) in the U.S. Department of the Interior. LaCounte, a member of the Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa Indians in North Dakota, has served as acting director since 2018. His appointment is effective April 28, 2019.

"Ensuring that key leadership positions are filled is important for Indian Affairs' success and the Department's relationship with Indian Country," Sweeney said. "Mr. LaCounte has done a superior job over this past year as the acting director of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. He is clearly committed to the trust responsibility and the further development of our vital workforce, which is the foundation for our ability to deliver services to the tribes."

"When I was asked to step in to be the BIA's acting director, I felt a strong responsibility to the people behind the work – the Indian Affairs employees, the tribes, and the Indian and Alaska Native people we serve," LaCounte said. "In accepting this appointment as BIA director, I want to thank Assistant Secretary Sweeney for her confidence and support. Because I believe in our mission, I am committed to improving the way we accomplish it and to upholding the federal trust responsibility now and for future generations."

LaCounte began his federal career in 1988 at the Bureau's

Wind River Agency in Fort Washakie, Wyo, as an oil and gas specialist in the real estate services branch of the Office of Trust Services.

Since 2015, he had been regional director of the Bureau's Rocky Mountain Regional Office in Billings, Mont., which serves eight federally recognized tribes in Montana and Wyoming.

He went on to serve as the acting deputy bureau director for Trust Services at the BIA's headquarters in Washington, DC, beginning in February 2018.

He was named the acting BIA director in April 2018. LaCounte received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Eastern Montana College (now Montana State University) in 1986 from a compassionate nation can replace them, we are thankful for their years of dedicated service to the tribal communities they protected every day. As the names of these three dedicated officers are etched into the memorial, may their bravery and courage be everlastingly etched into our memories and hearts.”

The event is held annually on the first Thursday in May. BIA-OJS conducts the memorial service in conjunction with the International Association of Chiefs of Police Indian Country Law Enforcement Section and other law enforcement organizations and agencies including the National Sheriffs’ Association and the US . Department of Homeland Security Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers in Artesia. FLETC is home to the memorial, service and academy.

The formal ceremony consists of full law enforcement honors with flag presentation, 21-gun salute, honor guard, traditional drum song and prayer, officer roll call, and family recognition. Each year, invited dignitaries provide keynote remarks at the ceremony.

The Indian Country Law Enforcement Officer’s Memorial was first dedicated on May 7, 1992, at the Indian Police Academy, then located in Marana, Ariz. The academy and memorial were later moved to their present site where the latter was re-dedicated on May 61993.

The memorial design is based upon indigenous design concepts. Comprised of three granite markers sited within a circular walkway lined with sage, a plant of spiritual significance to many tribes, the memorial includes four planters filled with foliage in colors representing people of all nations. The planters represent the four directions and are located near the walkway’s entrance.

The earliest inscribed name dates back to 1852. In addition to those from Bureau of Indian Affairs and tribal law enforcement, officers listed represent numerous law enforcement agencies including US . Border Patrol, Alaska State Police, New Mexico State Police, Arizona Department of Public Safety, Navajo County Sheriff’s Office, U.S. Customs Bureau, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The list includes one female officer from the Navajo Nation Department of Public Safety who was killed in 1998; a father and son, both BIA officers, who died in 1998 and 2001, respectively; and two FBI agents killed on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in 1973.

Dept. of Wildlife Asks Oklahomans to Report Sightings of American Bumble Bee

Backyard gardens and flowerbeds are buzzing with bees this spring and the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation is asking Oklahomans to share sightings of a specific bee, the American bumble bee, on iNaturalist. The free online crowd-sourcing platform allows nature enthusiasts to connect with biologists as well as a larger community of naturalists.

“Sharing a photo along with the date and location of your sighting helps us better understand the status of this important pollinator,” said Matt Fullerton, Wildlife Department biologist. “And iNaturalist makes it really easy to add photos and observation details on their website and app (available for Apple and Android devices) – it takes only a few clicks to add an observation from your phone.”

American bumble bees play an important role in nature as part of the pollinator community. These bees, along with other native pollinators, help pollinate many plants, which in turn ensure important food sources used by many other wildlife species are available the next year. Queen American bumble bees emerge from their hibernation burrows in early to mid spring and begin creating an underground colony of worker bees. New queens and male bees are produced in autumn, and all but mated queens die before winter.

By Using Free ‘iNaturalist’ Online Platform

“Bumble bees are pretty familiar insects for most Oklahomans – we have at least 10 species in our state and they’re all generally large bees with a black and yellow body, and hairy abdomens,” Fullerton said. “But what makes American bumble bees identifiable is the pattern of the black and yellow bands.”

American bumble bees have three black and two yellow bands. The first yellow band is just behind the eyes on the thorax or body of the bee, with the second band located in the middle of the abdomen. Because identification hinges on this pattern, photos should be included with sighting information. Photos are most beneficial when they show the entire back of an individual bee.

“iNaturalist has several built-in features to help with identification. When you upload an observation and photo by phone, it automatically generates suggestions based on visually similar species or species that have been reported in the area. Fellow iNaturalists can also view your observations and suggest identifications,” Fullerton said. “If you’re unsure the bee you saw was an American bumble bee, you can simply record it as a ‘bumble bee’ and lean on the iNaturalist community to help narrow the identification.”

It was a meaningful way to end the day,” Dr. Jackson concluded.

33rd Red Earth Festival Set for June 7-10 in OKC

A grand parade unlike any other in the world will celebrate the opening of the 33rd Red Earth Festival. The streets of downtown Oklahoma City will vibrate in Native American tribal spirit during the Red Earth Parade as hundreds of participants in authentic tribal regalia participate in what has been referred to as America’s most unique parade. Gary Batton, Chief of the Choctaw Nation, will serve as grand marshal and will lead over 100 entries scheduled to participate.

The Red Earth Parade has a new date and a new route. The parade will start at 10 am on Saturday, June 8 and travel a new route south from NW 6th Street on Walker Ave. to Sheridan Ave. Spectators are encouraged to arrive early for good seats to witness what has been referred to as “America’s Most Unique Parade,” as it celebrates Red Earth Festival Art Market and PowWow at the Cox Convention Center.

In previous years, the Red Earth Parade has featured more than 100 colorful entries while thousands lined the streets to experience the colorful event. The parade is free to the public and free for participants.

Participants may include but are not limited to Tribal leaders and princesses, color guards, dancers, musical groups, marching bands, school groups, drum groups, mounted entries and community organizations.

Admission to the 33rd Annual Red Earth Festival, scheduled June 7-10 is $15 for adults. All children 18 and under are admitted free. Red Earth is an Allied Arts member agency and is funded in part by the Chickasaw Nation, Choctaw Nation, Oklahoma Arts Council, and the National Endowment for the Arts..

EDUCATION NEWS FOR JUNE

By Barbara Ramos, Education Director Sac and Fox Nation

Wishing all students a happy and safe summer vacation! Quotes are my source of inspiration when I feel stuck or need encouragement and, this month I found this quote that spoke to me: “If you want something said, ask a man; if you want something done, ask a woman.” - Margaret Thatcher.

I would like to share some more information about the Johnson-O’Malley (JOM) Conference which was written by Candice E. Skenandore as it provides more information about JOM.

On December 31, 2018, the President signed the Johnson O’Malley Supplemental Indian Education Program Modernization Act (JOM). The JOM program provides critical educational resources for Native American students across the Nation through after school programs, school supplies and languages services.

The reauthorized JOM requires:

- The Interior Department to annually update the student count;
- BIE to report to Congress;
- Revise funding allocations; and,
- BIE must define “eligible student.”

Previously a student was eligible if he/she was a member of a federally recognized tribe or had ¼ Indian blood.

Key Implementation Dates:

- Preliminary Report is due within 180 days (June 30, 2019) – BIE has started working on the new student count;
- A 60-day comment period should be published on the Federal Register around June 30th and will end around August 1st;
- The Final Report is due 120 days after the comment period;
- Rule-making is to be completed in one (1) year (rewrite of rule and regulations)

STUDENT COUNT

As previously reported, the student count has been frozen since 1996 and the funding per students has decreased from $25 per student down to $2 per student. JOM will now use blood quantum for its student count so it will increase the count from 28,000 to more than 12 million.

COUNT DATA RECONCILIATION

Based on census information, tribal enrollment and the report by the Department of Education number may be different and it will be necessary to reconcile the numbers count to get a more realistic count. Numbers will be the number for the next two (2) years, tribes will need to provide an accurate count.

COMMENT PERIOD

A work group which is being developed will focus on issues and policies. Previously the practice was for the BIE to decide and then have tribes comment on the decision.

CONTRACTING REQUIREMENT

Tribes must file an annual report or they will not receive funding for the upcoming year. There is no appeal process included within the JOM but a technical assistance will be in place to help develop the annual report.

FUNDING/ALLOCATIONS

- JOM made no changes to the formula;
- In 1986 they determined eligibility by whether the student was a member of a federally recognized tribe and they used Census Data which only used a single source and it did not account for multi-tribal students;
- Need to find a way to reflect complete funding, i.e. transportation for disabled students;
- Tribes need to make sure they receive new money for new students. Last year’s students may not be counted;
- The bulk of funding for new students was put in to a Tribal Priority Allocation (TPA) line items;
- Tribes should identify schools that could be a part of the JOM, BIE schools are precluded;
- There is a hold-harmless clause in the JOM, if your student count number is less than it was in 1996 (student count was frozen), funding will be frozen for four (4) years which means you will lose funding for four (4) years. If you do not submit an annual report you will be in violation of law and will lose funding.

The Government Accountability Office will prepare a report no later than eighteen (18) months after the BIE’s first reports to Congress. The National Johnson O’Malley Association will meet with the negotiating team to outline a plan which includes:

- Simplify the rules;
- Update the student allocation;
- Develop 21st century curriculum guidelines; and
- Define student eligibility.

The Office of Self-Governance will continue to provide updates on the Reauthorization to schools, school boards and to higher education programs. NOTE: We received information from Cedric Sunray, who previously worked in the Sac and Fox Language Department, about a new school: SOVEREIGN COMMUNITY SCHOOL (SCS). It is a Free Public School of Excellence and Relevance Built For and By the Indigenous Community of Oklahoma City to Ensure the Future of Our People and the Quality of Their Education. The SCS is a public charter school authorized by the Oklahoma State Board of Education that will open its doors in the 2019-2020 school year to serve 6th and 9th grades in the first year, eventually growing to educate students in the 6th through 12th grades.

For more information on the school and enrolling in SCS please call: (405) 639-9416 or e-mail: info@sovereign-schools.org. This is a surprising development in education for Native Americans. Please support SCS if at all possible as this could be a great beginning for all who become involved.

Hamilton-Youngbird Advances to National History Day World Competition in Maryland

Kealan Hamilton-Youngbird, a Sac and Fox tribal member, placed second in the Junior Documentary Division at the National History Day, Oklahoma State Competition on May 1, 2019. He moves on to compete in The National History Day World/National Competition at the University of Maryland in June.

The theme for this year’s National History Day competition is “Triumph and Tragedy.” The students were to select a topic of their choice that fit into the selected theme.

For his subject, Kealan chose “The Oklahoma Tax Commission V. The Sac and Fox Nation- A Tragic Fight for Tribal Sovereignty and the Triumph of a Nation’s Right to Self-Govern.” In his documentary, he describes the history of the tribe’s fight for sovereignty and how the tribe came to be the first in Oklahoma to issue their own tribal tags and plates for motor vehicles.

Hamilton has been conducting research on Sac & Fox tribal history since the start of the school year in 2018. Among many of his academic awards, he was selected as “Student of Today” by The Masonic Fraternity of Oklahoma; Shawnee Composite Lodge 107

The award highlights Kealan as a student “who’s has demonstrated outstanding scholarship, leadership, citizenship and integrity - with appreciation of past accomplishments and in anticipation of future contributions to our City, our State, our Nation and our World.”

Tips Offered for Limiting Screen Media And Devices During Summer Break

by Leilana McKindra
Communications Specialist
Agricultural Communications Services
Oklahoma State University

With summer’s arrival and the less hectic pace it brings for families compared to the school year, it may be tempting for parents to allow children to watch a little more television or play that video game a little longer. But, it is important to maintain a healthy balance when it comes to children’s exposure to screen media and devices, even during summer break.

“One of the big worries is that over-exposure to screen media and devices could interfere with children getting the proper amounts of sleep or physical activity, playing, interacting with others and engaging in other behaviors that could affect their health both now and in years to come,” said Laura Hubbs-Tait, Oklahoma State University Cooperative Extension parenting specialist.

Summer time is a chance for families to get creative in the ways they keep children engaged without relying too heavily on media.

“The goal for parents of school-aged children and adolescents should be to find a good balance between media use and other healthy activities,” Hubbs-Tait said. “You can turn this into a family project with everyone participating in identifying the best ways to manage the family’s media diet.”

Families that already have a media plan should stick to it throughout the summer. For guidance on putting together a customized plan, families can use the Family Media Use Plan tool recently launched by the American Academy of Pediatrics. It is available at www.healthychildren.org.

A family media plan should include elements such as media-free periods during dinner or while in the car, when all media devices are turned off. There also may be media-free zones in the house such as bedrooms for sleeping and kitchens for eating and talking.

Parents who set up and obey the rules of media-free zones serve as role models for the importance of limiting media and also encourage children’s language and social development,” Hubbs-Tait said.

As part of the family media plan, parents should often and openly discuss the importance of being safe and respectful to others both online and offline. They also should talk about the importance of the same rules of etiquette in screen media interactions as in face-to-face interactions.

The most recent AAP recommendations on media usage for children and adolescents suggest limiting screen media for children younger than 18 months to face-to-face video chatting only. For children between 18 and 24 months, if parents want to introduce them to media, the parents should select high-quality programming and watch and talk about it with them. This promotes parent-child social interaction and fosters child language development.

Meanwhile, children ages 2 years to 5 years should be limited to one hour of screen time per day featuring high-quality programming, with parents on hand to view it with them. For children age 6 and older, the AAP recommends establishing and maintaining consistent limits on the time they spend interacting with media, as well as the types of media they are using.

“Screen media including computers, smart phones, tablets, televisions and other devices are a big part of our daily lives and that’s not going to change in the future,” Hubbs-Tait said. “However, parents should look to incorporate these technologies in ways that will best support their children’s healthy growth and development.”

SAUK LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Indians are born speaking our languages. For some of us, they lie dormant within our bodies. They are looking for a way out. God gave us these beautiful languages. All of us hold them in a sacred manner within. There is no such thing as an Indian person who cannot speak Indian.

Our language programs find these languages within our bodies. They bring them out through our mouths and deliver them to their rightful resting places within our hearts.

June 2019 Quotes

Out of the Indian approach to life, there came a great freedom, an intense and absorbing respect for life, enriching faith in a supreme power and principles of truth, honesty, generosity, equity and brotherhood as a guide to mundane relations.

Black Elk, Oglala Lakota (1863-1950)

I am going to venture that the man who sat on the ground, in his tipi, meditating on life and its meaning, accepting the kinship of all creatures and acknowledging unity with the universe of things was infusing into his being the true essence of civilization.

Luther Standing Bear, Oglala Lakota (1868-1939)

It is better to have less thunder in the mouth and more lightening in the mouth.

Teams from Seven Area High Schools Compete for Sauk Language Bowl Trophy

by Cedric Sunray

May 8th was an incredible day for the continuance and further growth of the Sauk language! After four months of practice, high school teams from Stroud, Meeker, Shawnee, Little Axe, Cushing, Chandler and McCloud entered the Sac & Fox Gymnasium doors and prepared to see which team would take home the coveted Sauk Language Bowl Championship Trophy!

Sauk Language staff held eight practice classroom sessions at each high school in order to assist them in getting ready for the competition.

Teams were quizzed on six separate categories and had to answer and engage in a variety of ways to gain points. From straight forward questions requiring them to quickly hit their buzzer on their table to scavenger hunts and on to a variety of wacky games such as naming and putting on various items of clothing in speedy fashion, the teams all did an incredible job.

In the third year of the Bowl, newcomer Chandler High School vested the trophy away from last year's champion Shawnee High School, with Meeker High School following close behind. Sauk t-shirts, language materials and a variety of snacks were given out and teams and their fans laughed and joked along with judges Katie Thompson, Connie Cobb, Eddie Fullbright and emcee Cedric Sunray.

Chief Kay Rhoads made a special appearance to encourage the students, their family members and the respective members of their high school staffs who attended. All present seemed excited about next year's Language Bowl. A special thanks go to those Sac & Fox employees who set up the venue in preparation for the big event.

Such request must be accompanied by a non-refundable cashier's check of two-hundred dollars ($200.00) made payable to the Sac and Fox Nation. Said check shall be forwarded to the Tribal Secretary-Treasurer to be credited against the cost of the recount. The Election Board shall meet and decide within ten (10) days of receipt of the notice whether or not the reasons listed in the request are sufficient to cause a recount of ballots.

PRIMARY ELECTION:

The deadline date to request a recount: Thursday, June 6, 2019 by 4:30 p.m.

GENERAL ELECTION:

The deadline date to request a recount: Thursday, September 5, 2019 by 4:30 p.m.

You're getting a new Medicare card!

Cards will be mailed between April 2018 – April 2019

You asked, and we listened. You're getting a new Medicare card! Between April 2018 and April 2019, we'll be removing Social Security numbers from Medicare cards and mailing each person a new card. This will help keep your information more secure and help protect your identity.

You'll get a new Medicare Number that's unique to you, and it will only be used for your Medicare coverage. The new card won't change your coverage or benefits. You'll get more information from Medicare when your new card is mailed.

Here's how you can get ready:

■ Make sure your mailing address is up to date. If your address needs to be corrected, contact Social Security at ssa.gov/myaccount or 1-800-772-1213. TTY users can call 1-800-325-0778.

■ Beware of anyone who contacts you about your new Medicare card. We'll never ask you to give us personal or private information to get your new Medicare Number and card.

■ Understand that mailing everyone a new card will take some time. Your card might arrive at a different time than your friend's or neighbor's.

2018 PER CAPITA PAYMENT INFORMATION

- Individual must be enrolled by September 30, 2018 to be eligible for the 2018 per capita payment.
  - Tribal members will need to submit a W9 to the Finance Department for the upcoming 2018 Per Capita Payment.
  - Once a W-9 form is received, it will be updated into our system and all payments due will be made at a time of disbursement.
  - If an individual is a NEW tribal member, or has had a NAME CHANGE, a copy of Social Security card is needed for our records.
  - There is NO deadline on submitting a W9. All checks will be mailed, no exceptions.
  - The IRS 1099 form will be mailed by January 31, 2019.
- NEW MINORS . . . PLEASE SEND COPY OF SOCIAL SECURITY CARD SO WE CAN GET TRUST ACCOUNTS ESTABLISHED

W-9 Form

It is critical that the W-9 Form be completed correctly and thoroughly for each individual tribal member. Be sure to fill out your NAME, MAILING ADDRESS, SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER, and then SIGN and DATE your form.

Required Legal Documents

If you have had a name change due to marriage, divorce, adoption, etc., it is important the Finance Department has a copy of your social security card. All other legal documents should be sent to the Enrollment Department so their records can be updated. Any guardianship or Power of Attorney documents need to be on file with the Finance Department.

Minors

Parents or guardians are responsible for providing a W-9 for minor children; not doing so could result in the minor’s payment not being deposited into the minor’s trust fund account in a timely manner.

Contact information - Finance Department

For identity/security purposes, a W-9 form will not be accepted by e-mail. Completed forms may be hand delivered, mailed, or faxed.

Tax Liability Notification

What are the withholding requirements for distributions that are made per a Revenue Allocation Plan (RAP)? The first step is to identify the source of funds used for the distribution. Unless the source of funds is specifically exempt from taxation, the amounts that make up the distributions to tribal members are taxable.

Which funds get reported on Form 1099-Misc? Distributions could be derived from many sources, including the profits from a tribal business other than a Class II or Class III gaming operation, interest income on investments, or rental payments from tribal lands. All these payments require a tribe to prepare a Form 1099-MISC

When does a person receive a Form 1099-Misc, Statement for Recipients of Miscellaneous Income? If a person receives $600 or more in 1 calendar year from the same source, that amount must be reported on a Form 1099, and that Form 1099-Misc. must be provided to the individual.

It is only the amount distributed from NET GAMING REVENUE that is subject to withholding. The Internal Revenue Code provides that “Every person, including an Indian tribe, making a payment to a member of an Indian tribe from the net revenues of any Class II or Class III gaming activity conducted or licensed by such tribe, shall deduct and withhold from such payment a tax in an amount equal to such payment’s proportionate share of the annualized tax.” The amount to withhold is provided in Withholding Tables found in IRS Publication 15-A, Employer’s Supplemental Tax Guide.

If the Indian tribe anticipates making a distribution of any kind, the Indian tribe needs the tribal members’ Social Security number before the distribution is made. If an Indian tribe does not know a tribal member’s Social Security number at the time of distribution, the distribution is subject to “backup withholding” (at 28% in 2009). (Source: Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Indian Tribal Governments Frequently Asked Questions, Last Reviewed or Updated: April 22, 2013)

Per capita payments could affect any Tribal, Federal, State, and/or Local benefits you may receive or programs in which you participate. The Sac and Fox Nation encourage you to check with your tax accountant or benefit specialist.

NOTICE

Why does a W-9 needed to be submitted yearly?

If a tribal member receives income that is taxable, a 1099 must be issued for Tax Purposes. The W-9 also serves as a yearly address update.

Can the allotted minor payment be refused in order to have the entire per capita payment be deposited in trust? Yes, but in order to do so we must still receive a W-9 for the same reasons stated above. We would also need a written statement to that effect to be included with the W-9.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me); and

2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding; and

3. I am a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (defined below); and

4. The FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that I am exempt from FATCA reporting is correct.

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions for Part II, later.

Purpose of Form

An individual or entity (Form W-9 requester) who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) which may be your social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN), to report on an information return the amount paid to you, or other amount reportable on an information return. Examples of information returns include, but are not limited to, the following.

- Form 1099-DIV (dividends, including those from stocks or mutual funds)
- Form 1099-MISC (various types of income, prizes, awards, or gross proceeds)
- Form 1099-B (stock or mutual fund sales and certain other transactions by brokers)
- Form 1099-S (proceeds from real estate transactions)
- Form 1099-K (merchant card and third party network transactions)
- Form 1098 (home mortgage interest), 1098-E (student loan interest), 1098-T (tuition)
- Form 1099-C (canceled debt)
- Form 1099-A (acquisition or abandonment of secured property)

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN.

If you do not return Form W-9 to the requester with a TIN, you might be subject to backup withholding. See What is backup withholding, later.

June is ‘Stress Awareness Month’

by Clinical Staff Writer,
Ed Abuyog, LCSW

STRESS AWARENESS MONTH

Do you know what is stress? It is something that we all experience but not all of us can define easily. Each of us can say what causes our stress, and for each of us what causes stress is different. What do we need to know?

1. Hans Selye, MD is the key person who did research in stress, defining stress the way the body reacts to a stressor, whether real or imagined. Based on is observations he surmised three stages of stress: (1) Alarm (2) Resistance (3)Recovery.

2. Stress is a real human experience, with real effect in one’s body, way of thinking and emotions.

3. Stress impacts our health, relationships and our view of the world, at work, at home and in the community. Forty-six percent of people report that the main cause of their stress is related to workload, followed by 28% of people report that the “People Issues” are the second main cause of stress.

4. Work related stress impacts most people, research by the American Institute of Stress, with interesting results: Eighty percent of workers experience job related stress; 40% of workers say they need to learn ways to manage stress for themselves, and of 42% of all workers say their coworkers need the same; 40% of workers report that their job was very or extremely stressful; 25% report that they feel like screaming or shouting because of job related stress.

Also, 10% report that they are concerned about an individual work becoming violent because of job related stress; 9% are aware of an assault or act of violence in the workplace; and, 18% have experiences a threat or verbal intimidation over the past year.

5. Job stress is strongly associated more strongly associated with health complaints, as compared to financial or family problems.

6. Stress can be managed, not cured. What You Can Do.

(1) Be aware. Get to know signs. Physical symptoms include: Fatigue, Muscular tension, Headaches, Heart palpitations, Sleeping difficulties, such as insomnia,Gastrointestinal upsets, such as diarrhea or constipation and Dermatological disorders.

Psychological symptoms include: Depression, Anxiety, Discouragement, Irritability, Pessimism, Feelings of being overwhelmed and unable to cope, Cognitive difficulties, such as a reduced ability to concentrate or make decisions.

Behavioral symptoms include: An increase in sick days or absenteeism, Aggression, Diminished creativity and initiative, A drop in work performance, Problems with interpersonal relationships, Mood swings and irritability, Lower tolerance of frustration and impatience, Disinterest and Isolation.

(2) Consider healthy ways to manage stress, there are 4 A’s that may be helpful:

- Avoid Unnecessary Stress. Learn to say no. Know your limits. Avoid persons who stress you out if you can. Avoid hot button topics. Narrow down your to do list.

- Alter the Situation. Share concerns instead of bottling them up. Be willing to compromise. Be assertive. Consider new ideas to manage your time.

- Adapt to the Stressor. Consider your attitude, is it fair? Re-frame the problem. Look at the big picture. Focus on the positive.

- Accept the things you can’t change. Don’t try to control the uncontrollable. Look for the upside. Share your feelings with those you trust. Learn to forgive.

(3) Take action where you can. Begin small, and take time for relaxation and respite to recharge. If the stress is severe, see a counselor to assist you in learning new was of coping.

We are here to help. For more information, contact the Behavioral Health Department, educational and counseling services are available to assist in prevention and treatment.

With Commissioner Munson on Parkland Rd., Rose Allen Bridge Projects

The group is pictured at the 24 ft. long Rose Allen Bridge, located north of Stroud, 1.75 miles east of Hwy. 99. As previously published in the Sac and Fox News, the bridge project totaled $143,050.08, and the Parkland Rd. Project totaled $486,769.235. (Photos by Mike Brown)

SFN Activity Committee
Meetings Set the
First Tuesday
Of Each Month

The Sac & Fox Nation Activity Committee is comprised of tribal member volunteers who have the desire to promote activities within our tribe.

The Activity Committee is open to all Sac & Fox tribal members as well as non-tribal members. Beginning in June 2019, the Activity Committee will hold a regular meeting the first Tuesday of every month at 5:45 p.m. in the SFN Cultural Building.

Meetings are open to the public. The Activity Committee encourages membership, ideas, suggestions and/or concerns of the organization and hosting events. Gethapi

‘nsn.gov’
Designation?

From time to time, a question has been asked as to why the Sac and Fox Nation uses such a special exclusive (and longer) native sovereign nation dot gov Internet designation and name:

The “nsn dot gov” (nsn.gov) designation carries with it more significant levels of legitimacy, trust, and authority than a commercial, “dot com” domain name.

“NSN DOT GOV” confirms that it is an official government website that has been certified, verified, and recognized by the United States Government.

Of course, commercial sub-entities and public political subdivisions of tribal government may also use a commercial dot com designation for commercial-oriented purposes.

If your drinking water does not come from a public water system, you alone are responsible for assuring that it is safe. The Office of Environmental Services understand that testing your own water can be difficult and expensive. The SFN OES has obtained the funds from an EPA grant to assist with this cost. It is with pleasure that OES offers this service, free of charge, as a courtesy to you!

What is OES testing for?

Testing for a few of the most common contaminants is highly recommended. Even if you have a safe, pure water supply, testing should be performed at least once a year to ensure that your water is safe to drink.

The Office of Environmental Services will be testing your well for the following contaminants:

|                                  |                               |                     |                 |                  |       |

Conservation Roots
Are Strengthening
In Oklahoma Soil

by Bryan Painter
Oklahm a Conservation Commission
Public Information Officer

The recently released 2017 US . Census of Agriculture detailed in part that less and less of Oklahoma’s soil is whisked away by its powerful winds. A good anchor will do that.

“The Oklahoma Conservation Commission (OCC) and local Districts felt sure the actual findings of the Census would show that the roots of conservation in Oklahoma are strengthening. The report did that and so much more,” said Trey Lam, executive director of the Oklahoma Conservation Commission.

“The hundreds of field days, demonstration farms and educational events created even more change in no till and cover crop adoption rates than we expected. Oklahoma farmers and ranchers ‘get it.’ By adopting a system that protects and restores the productivity of our soil they can improve their bottom line and leave their land in better shape for generations to come.”

Anticipating the release of the Ag Census information was reminiscent of report card day back in school. Oklahoma farmers and ranchers in cooperation with the Conservation Partnership had put in the time and hard work to increase Soil Health practices. The Ag Census is the report card on whether all that work paid dividends.

Lam, along with others such as Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) State Conservationist Gary O’Neill, are excited to share that report card.

The 2017 US . Census of Agriculture, released by the United States Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS), showed that in Oklahoma, compared to 2012, there was a 24 percent increase in the number of farms using cover crops, a 51 percent increase in acres using cover crops, and a 29 percent decrease in intensive tillage practices. On a national scale, the report shows that Oklahoma is seventh in the nation for the largest decrease in cropland acreage using conventional tillage practices.

O’Neill said, “Reduced tillage and cover crops are two of the primary principles of Soil Health systems. These data trends show that Oklahoma farmers and ranchers are recognizing the benefits from implementing Soil Health Systems on their lands.”

Jimmy Emmons of Leedey, along with wife Ginger, received Oklahoma’s first Leopold Conservation Award in 2018. The award recognizes extraordinary achievement in voluntary conservation by American ranchers, farmers and foresters. Jimmy Emmons also waited anxiously for the release of the report.

“I was expecting the no till and cover cropping numbers to be up, but not that much,” he said. “Less tillage is a wonderful number. The report is so exciting because it shows all the hard work we have done promoting no till and covers is working.”

The Census of Agriculture is a complete count of US . farms and ranches and the people who operate them. Even small plots of land - whether rural or urban - growing fruit, vegetables or some food animals count if $,000 or more of such products were raised and sold, or normally would have been sold, during the Census year. The Census of Agriculture, taken only once every five years, looks at land use and ownership, operator characteristics, production practices, income and expenditures.

The Census of Agriculture provides the only source of uniform, comprehensive, and impartial agriculture data for every county in the nation. Through the Census of Agriculture, producers can show the nation the value and importance of agriculture and can influence decisions that will shape the future of US .a griculture.

“I definitely think this shows that Oklahoma has embraced conservation and is a true partner with a lot of the organizations around the state that are putting conservation on the ground within the Ag community,” said Troy Marshall, the Oklahoma State Statistician for USDA NASS. Most report cards leave a little room to build on. While statistics improved in cropland with reduced till practices and in cropland with intensive till practices, there was a decrease in cropland with no-till practices.

Lam believes the root system of conservation in Oklahoma will only continue to strengthen. “The pace of change should only increase from this point forward,” Lam said. “The momentum created over the last few years by NRCS and OCC programs make the future bright for natural resource conservation in our state.”
