Resolution Passed to Not Renegotiate Tribal-State Gaming Compact

On July 2, 2019, the Sac and Fox Nation Business Committee unanimously approved a resolution in response to Oklahoma Governor Kevin Stitt's prior comments regarding the

In Response to Gov. Kevin Stitt's Recent Comments

Tribal-State Gaming Compact. Following approval of the resolution, the tribal Business

Committee issued the following news release regarding its position on the matter:

The Business Committee of the Sac and Fox Nation unanimously voted to pass a resolution that states the Nation will not request to renegotiate the terms of the Tribal-State Gaming Compact. The resolution, voted on during a Business Committee meeting on July 2, 2019, responds to Oklahoma Governor Stitt's statements regarding the compact.

The resolution further affirmed that the compact's evergreen provision is clear and provides for the automatic renewal of the compact on January 1, 2020.

Principal Chief Justin F. Wood stated, "The Sac and Fox Nation remains dedicated to protecting the interests of our tribal members. Our gaming facilities provide much needed employment opportunities in central Oklahoma. In rural Oklahoma, the casinos are the cornerstone of economic growth. Increasing the exclusivity fees in the compact will negatively impact the Sac and Fox people, so I strongly oppose any proposed increase. The compact will automatically renew on January 1st; any other interpretation is legally inadequate. The Sac and Fox Nation already contributes to Oklahoma's economy, infrastructure, and culture and will continue to do so."

The Sac and Fox Nation is a federally recognized tribal nation of over 4000 enrolled members. The Nation is led by the Business Committee, comprised of five elected officials: Principal Chief Justin F. Wood, Second Chief Audrey Rose Lee, Secretary Jacklyn King, Treasurer Jared King, and Committee Member Robert Williamson. The Nation's jurisdiction lies in portions of Payne, Lincoln and Pottawatomie counties, with the capitol complex located outside of Stroud.

Resolution SF-19-19 reads: Whereas, the Business Committee of the Sac and Fox Nation met in a Regular meeting held the 2nd day of July, 2019, there being a quorum present; and

Whereas, the Business Committee is authorized to transact business and act on behalf of the Sac and Fox nation pursuant to the Constitution and laws of the Nation; and

Whereas, the Sac and Fox nation entered into a Tribal-State Gaming Compact (the Compact) with the State of Oklahoma in 2005, the terms of which have been approved by the Secretary of the U. S. Department of the Interior; and

Whereas, the Sac and Fox Nation's successful operation of its gaming enterprise has positively impacted Oklahoma's economy, created numerous jobs, and provided for essential services for tribal members; and

Whereas, the Sac and Fox nation and the State of Oklahoma have a government to government relationship and all interactions must be based in a good faith effort at direct communication; and

Whereas, the terms of the Compact allow both parties to request renegotiation of subsections A and E of Part 11 of the Compact. The Sac and Fox Nation has not received a specific proposal of terms for the aforementioned subsections from the State of Oklahoma; and

Whereas, the Business Committee opposes Governor Stitt's statements regarding an expiration date of the Compact. The evergreen provision of the Compact is clear and all conditions have been met; the Compact will automatically renew on January 1, 2020.

Whereas, the Business Committee finds it is not in the best interest of the Sac and Fox Nation to renegotiate terms of the Compact.

Now, therefore be it resolved that the Business Committee of the Sac and Fox nation, pursuant to the authority vested therein by the Constitution, does hereby declare that the Sac and Fox Nation will not request to renegotiate the terms of the Tribal-State Gaming Compact and reaffirms the Compact will automatically renew on January 1, 2020.

Chief Justin Freeland Wood's Address to the Nation

Let me begin my first address to my fellow Sac and Fox people with a sincere thank you for this honor of serving you as your Chief. I have a desire to communicate with you about our future.

The Sac and Fox Nation will no longer follow. We will lead from a position of power on all issues relevant to our people. You will soon be seeing real tangible success on projects across our jurisdiction. I am excited to report that we are making great progress on completing our application to place the Tanger property in Stroud into Trust.

Second Chief Audrey Lee has led a valiant effort to expedite the process, beginning in early July. We have received five community letters of support and contracted with partners to begin environmental and feasibility studies. The City of Stroud is thrilled to see our sudden expediency. It is also important to note that we are optimistic about economic opportunities in Shawnee and Cushing, as well.

The Tribal Needs survey has been a success. The Business Committee appreciates everyone who took the time to respond. We will take your responses and use them to help us create a plan to best serve the Nation. I am especially excited about the enthusiasm surrounding economic diversity and the need to serve more tribal members across the state.

Much of July has been dedicated to preparing for our Annual Governing Council. I am excited about my first council as your Chief. Council will set the tone for the upcoming fiscal year. My hope is that we will focus on our future and not our past. In my inaugural speech, I focused on the importance of moving forward towards a common goal. I understand that there are past frustrations and failures that plague this Nation.

This administration has spent our first 60 days working hard to fix some of the past wrongs so that the next 60 days can be dedicated to planting seeds for a brighter future.

I am thankful for the current Business Committee's willingness to move forward.

ness to get to work quickly. We have had no issue with communication or team building. It is amazing how well we have been working together. The same can be said about the current make up of our department directors and their staff. We are committed to recruiting dedicated professionals to fill vacancies in key leadership positions. We have many jobs but the most import will always be serving the Sac and Fox people and the other Indians within our jurisdiction. Because of that, we have been evaluating each department and its effectiveness within its structure and the community that it serves. It is vital that all employees, tribal and non-tribal, to understand that we are here to serve - period. I encourage you as a tribal member to reach out to our offices if you receive sub-par service while dealing with any program. Our evaluation process is year round.

Sac and Fox Nation Receives $89,000 Electric Energy Grant

U. S. Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs Tara Mac Lean Sweeney on July 30 announced that the Office of Indian Energy and Economic Development (IEED) has awarded $5,382,606 in energy and mineral development grants to 24 federally recognized tribes in 11 states across the U. S. The grants will fund tribal efforts to identify, study, design, and/or develop projects using energy, mineral or natural resources on the tribes’ lands to achieve their economic development goals.

The Sac and Fox Nation has been awarded a $89,000 grant “to explore a micro-grid solution that would alleviate power outages, reduce electricity costs, and serve multiple tribal facilities.”

“I congratulate the FY-2019 EMDP grant recipients on being selected,” said Assistant Secretary Sweeney. “This year’s awards fund a remarkable variety of tribal ideas and interests which, hopefully, will lead to even more remarkable outcomes that build tribal self-sufficiency. I am proud of IEED’s work to aid tribes in discovering ways to use their assets so that they can achieve their economic and self-determination goals.”

The grants were made through IEED’s Energy and Mineral Development Program (EMDP). The program is administered by the Division of Energy and Mineral Development (DEMD), which assists tribal governments and American Indian allottees with evaluating energy and mineral resource potential on their lands. Recipients use this information to determine whether or not they wish to develop energy projects, or extract and market commercially, or strategically, valuable minerals.

The DEMD solicits proposals on an annual basis from tribes and, through a competitive review process, selects qualified projects for funding. The program’s grant amounts are dependent upon appropriations. The projects announced today were selected from among 3 proposals submitted during the FY 2019 funding cycle.

In addition to the Sac and Fox Nation, the 2019 EMDP grant recipients by tribe name, state, award amount and purpose are:

- Assiniboine and Sioux Tribes, Montana ($1,158,000) – To identify high-confidence, low-risk oil and gas prospects on the Fort Peck Reservation that can be profitably developed.
- Chemehuevi Indian Tribe, California ($295,868) – To analyze and follow up on findings from the tribe’s mineral assessment project to determine potential mineral deposits on the Chemehuevi Reservation.
- Chippewa Cree Tribe, Montana ($121,635) – To qualify, quantify and determine suitability for customer use aggregate sand and gravel deposits on the Rocky Boy’s Reservation.
- Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Reservation, Oregon ($294,000) – To prepare for geothermal drilling operations on land parcels selected to host temperature gradient holes.
- Coushatta Tribe, Louisiana ($141,226) – To study existing energy resources and associated projects available to them, specifically natural gas technologies and processes such as Combined Heat and Power (CHP) distributed generation.
- Fond du Lac Band, Minnesota Chippewa Tribe, Minnesota ($98,000) – To design, evaluate and develop specifications for a micro-grid on the Band’s reservation to produce a more reliable power supply, reduce brownouts and blackouts, and lower energy use costs.

- Hoopa Valley Tribe, California ($152,575) – To complete an investment grade feasibility analysis for a CHP biomass/biogas 15 megawatt power plant to be located on its reservation.
- Kashia Band of Pomo Indians, California ($50,500) – To assess 1) the potential of biomass energy resources available in a tribally owned forest, 2) go-to-market opportunities for this resource, and 3) the potential for using these resources in a biomass/biogas power plant to serve tribal members and facilities on the tribe’s Stewarts Point Rancheria.
- Kewa Pueblo [formerly known as Pueblo of Santo Domingo], New Mexico ($219,608) – To study and determine the feasibility and profitability of the sale of tribally owned sand, gravel and concrete resources to markets within the greater Albuquerque-Santa Fe region.
- Mescalero Apache Tribe, New Mexico ($295,557) – To delineate, map, sample and test multiple aggregate resource sites on the Mescalero Apache Reservation.

Stop By and Meet Sgt. Kim Dibble And K9 Officer ‘Bristol’

The Sac and Fox Nation Police Department would like all of our tribal members to become acquainted with their local law enforcement team. This month we would like to introduce you to Sergeant Kim Dibble and her K-9 partner, ‘Bristol.’ Sgt. Dibble comes to us from Shawnee Police Department. She is a 12-year law enforcement veteran. Sgt. Dibble came to us in April of 2019 and brought K9 Bristol with her. K9 Bristol is a narcotics detection dog, and will be undergoing training in human scent tracking in the near future. We also wanted to reach out to our tribal members and clear up any confusion about Bristol being a “vicious pit bull.” We can assure you that Bristol is a very loving and affectionate K-9 as many tribal members that have already met her can attest. So, come on out and meet Sgt. Dibble and K9 Bristol! They’re always happy to meet new people. (Photo Provided)

Blessing Ceremony Conducted For Corn Brought to Oklahoma

by Mike Brown

A group comprised of Sac and Fox Nation officials, employees and other tribal members gathered July 31, 2019 for the first harvest of traditional Indian corn from a garden planted this past spring immediately west of the Administration Building.

After preparing the site during the winter months, forty rows of corn seed were planted April 22 by Sac and Fox Nation Land and Cattle Manager Andy Warrior. The planting followed a special trip to Tama, Iowa made by Sac and Fox Nation Business Committee Member Robert Williamson, who was accompanied by Warrior and fellow tribal staff members J. Paul Wilson and Sam Spang.

The delegation traveled to Tama to obtain the traditional Indian corn seed from tribal elders associated with the Sac and Fox Tribe of the Mississippi in Iowa and the Meskwaki (Fox) Settlement. The settlement is the only significant Native American community in Iowa. Tama is named for ‘Taimah’, a 19th century Meskwaki leader.

The Sauk and Meskwaki (or Fox) tribes were originally from the Great Lakes area before being removed to the Tama, Iowa area and locations in Illinois. In 1851, the Iowa State Legislature passed an unusual act to allow the Fox tribe to buy land and stay in the state. Other Sac and Fox were removed to Indian Territory in what became Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Committeeman Williamson said

Meskwaki elders Luke Kapayou and Jonathan Buffalo conducted a ceremony to bless the traditional corn seed prior to the delegation’s return to Oklahoma. During the July 31 harvest, Williamson noted that this year’s corn crop will be used to seed next year’s garden, and some will be used for a native dish demonstration during the upcoming Sauk Language Festival.

In April, Warrior also planted three rows of cushaw squash, which were also harvested from the garden. Immediately following the harvest, the group shucked the corn in the Sac and Fox Nation Community Building.

Business Committee Meeting Minutes are now accessible on the Website sacandfoxnation-nsn.gov and Facebook

SAUK LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Indians are born speaking our languages. For some of us, they lie dormant within our bodies. They are looking for a way out. God gave us these beautiful languages. All of us hold them in a sacred manner within. There is no such thing as an Indian person who cannot speak Indian. Our language programs find these languages within our bodies. They bring them out through our mouths and deliver them to their rightful resting places within our hearts.

September 2019 Quotes

When a white army battles Indians and wins, it is called a great victory, but if they lose it is called a massacre.
Cheeseekau, Shawnee (1760-1792)

One thing to remember is to talk to the animals,. If you do, they will talk back to you. But if you don't talk to the animals, they won't talk back to you, then you won't understand, and when you don't understand you will fear, and when you fear, you will destroy the animals, and if you destroy the animals, you will destroy yourself.

Chief Dan George, Tsliel-Waututh (1899-1981)

The land is sacred. These words are at the core of your being. The land is our Mother, the rivers our blood. Take our land away and we die. That is the Indian in us dies.

Black Hawk Health Center

September is National Recovery Month

by Clinical Staff Writer,
Ed Abuyog, LCSW

SAMSHA is sponsoring Recovery Month in September to increase awareness and understanding that drinking too much alcohol increases people’s risk of injuries, violence, drowning, liver disease, and some types of cancer. The Black Hawk Health Center encourages you to educate yourself and your loved ones about the dangers of drinking too much.

In Oklahoma alone, there have been 18 drunk driving fatalities within the past year. To spread the word and prevent alcohol abuse, the Black Hawk Health Center is joining other organizations across the country to observe Recovery Awareness Month.

If you are drinking too much, you can improve your health by cutting back or quitting. Here are some strategies to help you cut back or stop drinking:

- Limit your drinking to no more than 1 drink a day for women or 2 drinks a day for men.
- Keep track of how much you drink.

- Choose a day each week when you will not drink.
- Don’t drink when you are upset.
- Limit the amount of alcohol you keep at home.
- Avoid places where people drink a lot.
- Make a list of reasons not to drink.
- If you are concerned about someone else’s drinking, offer to help.

What You Can Do

(1) Be aware. Learn more about alcoholism and how much you are drinking.

(2) Consider. The risks for alcoholism, to your health and impacts on your loved ones.

(3) Act. If you are not sure if you drink to much, or if you know you are drinking too much, please don’t hesitate to schedule an assessment with Behavioral Health.

We are here to help. For more information, contact the Behavioral Health Department, educational and counseling services are available to assist in prevention and treatment.

Sac and Fox Nation Donates To North Rock Creek Schools

North Rock Creek Public Schools (NRC) in Shawnee, Okla. will be able to expand their health and wellness programming and purchase new physical education equipment thanks to a $0,000 donation from the Sac and Fox Nation.

Members of the Sac and Fox Nation Business Committee presented the donation to Blake Moody, NRC Superintendent, on Monday, August 19 h at NRC Elementary School. With the donated funds, NRC will be able to expand their health and wellness programming in the elementary grades and replace outdated physical education equipment on the NRC Early Childhood playground.

“Our future is tied to that of our children. Investing in their education is pivotal to their growth and development. We are excited to share our traditions and partner with North Rock Creek Public School to provide a $0,000 donation -from our RAP donation line item- to fund a new playground for their elementary students.

The playground will feature signage identifying the Sac and Fox Nation and the athletic prowess of Jim Thorpe, ensuring Jim Thorpe’s legacy will forever be intertwined with the history of the Sac and Fox Nation,” said Principal Chief Justin F. NRC Superintendent Blake Moody stated, “North Rock Creek is very fortunate to have a terrific partnership with the Sac & Fox Nation. Chief Wood is a friend of our school and cares about our tribal students and the NRC community.”

Stores are Full of Misleading Food Marketing, Labeling

by Trisha Gedon
Oklahoma State University
Agricultural Communications Services

If you take a stroll down any aisle in the grocery store, consumers will see all kinds of food labels touting products as being healthy choices. Cholesterol-free produce, gluten-free water, natural soda, 100 percent whole-grain cookies and non-GMO carrots are just a few examples of the many claims shoppers may see on the front of food packages in the United States.

Many consumers believe these claims mean the food product they are purchasing is healthier for them and their family. What it really means is the companies advertising these products are taking advantage of the lack of understanding of the public to increase their profit, said Jenni Kinsey, Oklahoma State University Cooperative Extension assistant specialist, youth Community Nutrition Education Programs.

“The supermarket is full of misleading food marketing, all of which is aimed at unsuspecting customers who simply want to purchase healthy foods for their family,” Kinsey said. “Unfortunately, consumers don’t always have a good understanding of the verbiage used on the labels. For example, cholesterol is only found in animal-based products. Therefore, produce of any kind should never contain cholesterol. In fact, anything not derived from an animal product should be cholesterol free.”

It does not take long to find various products claiming to be gluten free, including bottled water. Gluten is a protein found in wheat, barley and rye, and therefore, water obviously is gluten free. But consumers wanting to buy healthy products, often snatch up products based solely on the wording on the package without fully understanding what they are buying. Consumers really shouldn’t be concerned about avoiding gluten unless they have a medical diagnosis and they are working closely with a medical provider.

“The term ‘natural’ is another one that stands out to consumers. Currently, the U.S. Food & Drug Administration doesn’t have an official definition of natural. Therefore, this claim is up for the taking by countless food products, including soda, chips and other foods that most know we should limit,” she said. “Remember, a natural label claim is not a health claim. Consumers may pay more for the product with the natural label claim even though it is no different from the product next to it without the natural label claim.”

Despite the label claiming a product is made or baked with 100 percent whole grain, it does not make that product whole grain. Kinsey said if a food product includes whole grain in its ingredients, the package can advertise made with whole grain. However, this leads the consumer to believe they are getting a whole-grain product when they actually are not. To ensure you are purchasing a whole-grain product, look for 100 percent whole grain on the packaging.

Kinsey said there is a lot of talk about bio-engineered foods or genetically modified organisms, also known as GMOs. These are used to increase crop yield and feed more people with fewer resources. “This ultimately leads to more affordable food products. Examples of the reason these foods are bio-engineered include, but are not limited to, improved drought tolerance, improved mineral absorption and insect resistance,” she said. “Despite the fact only 10 GMO foods are approved for sale in the United State, thousands of foods advertise GMO-free on the label when they do not contain and never did contain the approved GMO foods. This is simply an advertising tactic to get the upper hand on competing brands.”

The 10 approved GMO foods for sale include alfalfa, apples, canola, corn, cotton, papaya, potatoes, soybeans, summer squash and sugar beets. Although there is an FDA front-of-package labeling initiative to combat misleading food-marketing practices, it will take years and possibly even decades to overcome all of the inappropriate claims.

“What you can do now is educate yourself, learn about ingredients and question the food label claims,” Kinsey said. “Get in the habit of asking yourself if the claim even makes sense and you’ll begin recognizing the mass number of misleading label claims.”

Why the 'nsn.gov' Designation?

From time to time, a question has been asked as to why the Sac and Fox Nation uses such a special exclusive (and longer) native sovereign nation dot gov Internet designation and name:

The “nsn dot gov” (nsn.gov) designation carries with it more significant levels of legitimacy, trust, and authority than a commercial, “dot com” domain name.

“NSN DOT GOV” confirms that it is an official government website that has been certified, verified, and recognized by the United States Government.

Of course, commercial sub-entities and public political subdivisions of tribal government may also use a commercial dot com designation for commercial-oriented purposes.

Tax Liability Notification

What are the withholding requirements for distributions that are made per a Revenue Allocation Plan (RAP)? The first step is to identify the source of funds used for the distribution. Unless the source of funds is specifically exempt from taxation, the amounts that make up the distributions to tribal members are taxable.

Which funds get reported on Form 1099-Misc? Distributions could be derived from many sources, including the profits from a tribal business other than a Class II or Class III gaming operation, interest income on investments, or rental payments from tribal lands. All these payments require a tribe to prepare a Form 1099-MISC

When does a person receive a Form 1099-Misc, Statement for Recipients of Miscellaneous Income? If a person receives $600 or more in 1 calendar year from the same source, that amount must be reported on a Form 1099, and that Form 1099-Misc. must be provided to the individual.

It is only the amount distributed from NET GAMING REVENUE that is subject to withholding. The Internal Revenue Code provides that “Every person, including an Indian tribe, making a payment to a member of an Indian tribe from the net revenues of any Class II or Class III gaming activity conducted or licensed by such tribe, shall deduct and withhold from such payment a tax in an amount equal to such payment’s proportionate share of the annualized tax.” The amount to withhold is provided in Withholding Tables found in IRS Publication 15-A, Employer’s Supplemental Tax Guide.

If the Indian tribe anticipates making a distribution of any kind, the Indian tribe needs the tribal members’ Social Security number before the distribution is made. If an Indian tribe does not know a tribal member’s Social Security number at the time of distribution, the distribution is subject to “backup withholding” (at 28% in 2009). (Source: Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Indian Tribal Governments Frequently Asked Questions, Last Reviewed or Updated: April 22, 2013)

Per capita payments could affect any Tribal, Federal, State, and/or Local benefits you may receive or programs in which you participate. The Sac and Fox Nation encourage you to check with your tax accountant or benefit specialist.

NOTICE

Why does a W-9 needed to be submitted yearly?

If a tribal member receives income that is taxable, a 1099 must be issued for Tax Purposes. The W-9 also serves as a yearly address update.

Can the allotted minor payment be refused in order to have the entire per capita payment be deposited in trust? Yes, but in order to do so we must still receive a W-9 for the same reasons stated above. We would also need a written statement to that effect to be included with the W-9.
